

Harris & Harris Hosts Annual Employee Appreciation Parties!

January 2015

Every year, Harris & Harris throws their annual Employee Appreciation Party. The parties always fall a few weeks after the holidays, as everyone is settling into the new year.

Throughout January, the Chicago, Detroit, and Milwaukee offices all held their annual parties again this year. This year's Chicago theme was Las Vegas. There were different casino tables to play with Harris Chips, a magician roaming the venue, and lots of chips flowing! There were also many different raffles you could win based on you're the Harris chips from the casino games.

Harris & Harris always enjoys throwing their annual Employee Appreciation Parties. It is nice for everyone to come together outside of work and socialize. It allows employees in all different departments to come together and celebrate!

At the Chicago event, there was also a Coat Check for Charity in keeping with our tradition of giving back to the communities we serve. This year, the charity selected for donation was Feeding America, where we were able to donate over 3,000 meals to be distributed on behalf of local food banks! It is always important to remember charities while celebrating!

The 2015 Employee Party was another one for the books... but what happens at Harris & Harris, stays at Harris & Harris!

"We look forward to our Employee Appreciation Party every year. This year's was one to remember!"
